

Name: _____

Commas After the Words Yes and No

Use a comma after the word yes or no at the beginning of a sentence.

examples:

Would you like to have a tea party with me?
Yes, I would like to have a tea party with you.
(Place a comma after the word yes.)

Are those your stuffed animals?
No, these stuffed animals belong to my sister.
(Place a comma after the word no.)

Write an answer to each question. The answer should include the word yes or no (as indicated) and rephrase the question, similar to the examples above. Be sure you include a comma after the word yes or no.

1. Would you like to take a bath tonight? (yes)

---

---

Preview

Please log in to download
the printable version of this worksheet.

4. Will you play checkers with me? (yes)

---

---

ANSWER KEY

Commas After the Words Yes and No

Use a comma after the word yes or no at the beginning of a sentence.

examples:

Would you like to have a tea party with me?
Yes, I would like to have a tea party with you.
(Place a comma after the word yes.)

Are those your stuffed animals?
No, these stuffed animals belong to my sister.
(Place a comma after the word no.)

Preview

Please log in to download
the printable version of this worksheet.

4. Will you play checkers with me? (yes)

Yes, I will play checkers with you.