Have you ever seen an elephant? They are pretty big. Imagine an animal the size of 30 elephants. That's how big a blue whale is!

Blue whales are the largest animals on Earth. They live in the ocean.

Blue whales often swim alone or with one other whale. Some swim with a small group. Blue whales make loud noises to "talk" to each other. These noises can be heard from very far away.

Blue whales can live up to 90 years. They eat tiny sea animals called krill.

1. Is an elephant smaller or larger than a blue whale?
