What's your favorite food? Think about its taste. What do you like about it? Is it sweet? Salty? Something else? You can thank your taste buds for helping you enjoy it!

Taste buds are on your tongue. They let you taste if something is sweet, salty, bitter, or sour. Your taste buds work with your nose. Together, they tell your brain how your food tastes. If you have a stuffy nose, your favorite food might not taste as good as normal. This is because your nose isn't helping. Your taste buds are doing all the work!
